

FRANKFORT VILLAGE BOARD has a new look as a result of the village election April 18. The newly elected officers were sworn in Monday night, April 24, after the old board had paid bills and finished old business. There are three new trustees on the board, Wayne DePorto, elected to fill a two year term, and Wilbert Klier and Daniel Hecht, for four year terms, Milton Subbert was re-elected for four years as trustee.

Civil Defense Calls For National Alert Tomorrow

When the Mokena fire house takes on a new look tomorrow it will not be because response to their fund raising drive has been slow and the fire fighters decided to pack-up and go out of business, but it will be because Mokena is joining the nation in the Civil Defense alert drill. The program will get underway at 10 A.M. (CST) and continue until midnight with the take-cover alert scheduled from 3 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Complete information on activities in New Lenox were not available but an unofficial source revealed that their program will coincide with Mokena's in many respects and will include the police and fire departments under the direction of Stanley Ekedahl, local Civil Defense director.

Frankfort plans the most energetic exercise of all. Their drill, under the direction of Bob Porter, will begin at 3 p.m. Friday, run to midnight and resume at 7 a.m. Saturday to continue until noon.

The Mokena fire station will take on the appearance of a military signal center as will the basement of the Porter Studios at 124 Ash St. in Frankfort. Anthony Dina, director of Civil Defense in Mokena and president of Northern Illinois Directors Association comprising 30 counties, said that 12 operators will be on hand to send and receive messages, alerts and directions from the Will County Control Center in Joliet. Mokena schools will be kept abreast of the exercises thru their radio receiver system. The messages to the schools will be relayed from the fire hall radio center. Sham bombings and alert exercises will be simulated thru the alert period.

In addition to the above Frankfort will be hooked-up with the Illinois State Civil Defense headquarters in Chicago and will have two monitors, Howard Romene and Stanley Warning who will reveal secret sealed exercises thru the period. Frankfort's school drills will also include Ann Rutledge and Weltendorf schools.

New Lenox, Frankfort and Mokena will receive national air warning alerts from North America Air Defense Command in Colorado Springs, Colo. Between 3 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. Friday all commercial radio and TV stations will yield their wave lengths to Conelrad 640 and 1240 on radio dials. The president's message can be heard on these two stations during the commercial black-out. All citizens are asked to keep off the streets and seek shelter during this period.

Induct 12 Into Honor Society At Lincoln-Way

Twelve students were inducted into the National Honor Society in an all school assembly at Lincoln-Way High School last Friday.

Two seniors and ten juniors were awarded the highest scholastic honor that the Lincoln-Way faculty can bestow upon a student. Seniors are: Paulette Anderson and Beverly Kluth. Juniors are: Sue Jasinski, James Lakin, Ann Lembke, Dale Meyer, Jane Morrison, Paul Mikar, Dennis Porick, Michael Tate, Kay Van Rheeden and Jackie Zitter.

The students are selected on the basis of their character, scholarship, leadership and service. Donald J. D'Amico, assistant principal at Lincoln-Way, stated in his induction remarks, "By qualifying for the National Honor society these students have reached the pinnacle of academic excellence. If we are to look upon leaders of the school and of our future society we have to say that such leadership will come from students of this calibre".

Daylight Time Is Here Again

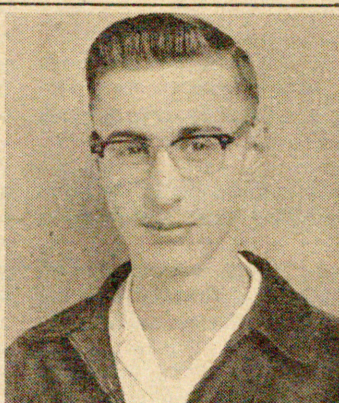

Persons who have plans for this Sunday, April 30, are given warning. Don't get fouled up on the time.

If you haven't anything planned and mean to get up late and loll around the rest of the day it won't make much difference but it would be wise to set the clock ahead anyway, just to be on the safe side Monday when you have to go to work.

Daylight saving time is here again and calls for setting clocks ahead an hour. The time difference remains in effect until the last Sunday in October when one moves the time back an hour.

Ronald Heisner

L-W Student Wins 1st In FFA Contest

Ronald Heisner, member of the Lincoln-Way Future Farmers of America, won first place in the District II FFA speech contest Wednesday night at Yorkville.

Approximately 100 vocational departments, one fifth of the state of Illinois, were represented. Ron was rated top speaker of the group, and has the honor of representing District II in the State FFA speech contest. The state meet will be held in June as a part of the program of the Illinois State FFA Convention, in Springfield.

Ron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Heisner who reside on a dairy farm north of Manhattan. His subject, "A Man Outstanding in His Field", was selected because of his serious interest in the present day problems of the American Farmer. He believes in the "Future of Farming". As he states in his speech, "I believe that agriculture will have the brightest future that it has ever enjoyed; and, we, the members of the FFA, will be a part of that great destiny—each of us with the opportunity to be a 'MAN OUTSTANDING IN HIS FIELD'".

Part of the contest is to answer questions, extemporaneously, asked by three judges on any subject related to his speech. This is the part where many contestants fall by the way. It shows the judges how much background reading and study the boys have been doing. Ron scored tops in this division as well as delivery.

To be a winner in this type of activity requires many months of work and training. The speech must be written by the contestant. Much of the training in background and delivery came from his vocational agriculture teacher, Robert Van Rheeden and his speech and Dramatics teacher, Melvin Donaho.

Say Hail, Wind Damage Will Run Into Millions

A violent hailstorm, accompanied by tornadic winds, caused millions of dollars worth of damage in Will county Sunday and householders and business people immediately began the task of repairing and rebuilding.

Mokena, New Lenox, Frankfort and Orland Park escaped without serious damage from the hail but the deluge of rain that fell caused some damage to roads and streets in various sections of the area.

Joliet was hard hit as was Peotone, and a funnel shaped cloud sighted a mile south of Wilton Center is believed to have touched down previously at Lorenzo and either it or another tornado is said to have caused some damage in the vicinity of Manteno and Grant Park and over in Indiana near Lowell. A chain of twisters was set off Sunday in Iowa and some moved into Illinois.

At Joliet and Peotone the hail fell in sheets and in the five minutes that phase of the storm lasted enough of the icy pellets fell to cover the ground and streets to a depth of two inches.

The strong winds caused some of it to form two and three-foot drifts, with the result that traffic was blocked in various areas. But that was nothing. Driven by the high wind the hail shattered windows, broke holes thru roofs, wrecked siding on houses, battered and dented automobiles until in many instances the cost of repair would equal the total loss figure on the insurance policies.

Mayor Louis Schroeder of Peotone said that every one of the 600 homes in that village was damaged and the same was true of business places, schools and churches. Some of the stained glass windows in the churches that had reached the century mark were broken by the pounding hail, and cannot be replaced, it was said.

A child was reported injured near Peotone when the trailer which was the family home, was overturned.

Milton Batson, 23, of 136 Maple st., Frankfort, a member of the Civil Defense unit of that village, suffered a broken leg and a lacerated thigh when he was helping to haul a tree out of a Peotone street. A tow truck was hooked to the tree.

Anthony Dina, CD director of Mokena, and Robert Porter, who has the same position at Frankfort, headed CD crews that went to the Peotone area to direct traffic and guard against possible looters. Peotone was without power from the time the storm struck around 4 o'clock until 10 o'clock Sunday night. There were 12 men in the Mokena contingent and 15 from Frankfort, including nine of the Will County Auxiliary Police organization.

Mayor Schroeder expressed his gratitude to the CD units for their assistance as well as to state police who were hurried to the scene. The mayor did not make an estimate as to the damage but it was believed it would run high. Many of the roofs of homes looked as if someone had worked on them with a pick. An aluminum house was so battered that it was believed the entire exterior would have to be replaced. Twenty-one planes at the Peotone airport were riddled by hail. Paul Rathy, airport owner, estimated the damages to the planes at $200,000.

At Joliet, Harry Keely, an adjuster with the Underwriters Adjusting Co., said 25,000 homes and 5,000 non-residential buildings in the immediate Joliet area had been damaged and the loss set at approximately $9-million.

Because of the enormous number of claims General Adjustment and Underwriters Adjusting, who are said to represent a major portion of the capital stock insurance companies doing business in the Joliet area, a special office was set up at Hillcrest Shopping Center Tuesday and 28 agents brought in from the outside to handle the business.

A house was wrecked by a tornado at Lorenzo, south on the Kankakee river, near Wilmington, and the Santa Fe and Gulf, Mobile and Ohio railroad tracks were so filled with debris that trains were held up for a couple of hours.

Maurice Kinsella, who lives south of Wilton Center, reported seeing a funnel shaped cloud as did two of his neighbors, Michael Quigley, 18, and his brother, Richard, 17. The two Quigleys had just started down the stairs to the basement at their home when a piece of two-by-four came thru the side of the house. The barn at the Kinsella farm was demolished and the barn and machine shed at the Quigley farm also were destroyed.

The storm hit at Joliet about 3:45 and moved east

Lions Urge Mokena Board To Act On House Numbering

The Mokena Lions at their last regular meeting were unanimous in adopting a recommendation addressed to the Mokena village board that present street names be left unchanged and that the new house numbering system be established by using Front street and Wolf road as the division lines or reference point.

The Lions will purchase street signs as soon as the village board gives them the proper names and the number of each required.

The Lions also would have the village board push action on the re-numbering of the homes and business places. The village board at a recent meeting indicated that it was in favor of turning the numbering job over to a professional firm that specializes in that sort of thing.

The board has been in touch with several of such firms. The re-numbering is needed now if the village is to have home delivery of mail this year.

Card Party, Dance To Aid Mokena FD

Ticket sales are slow for the Mokena Community Fire Department's fund raising campaign according to Chief Carroll Roberts. If the department fails to reach their goal of $6,000, there is a good possibility that insurance rates will be raised.

Tickets are being sold for a double event. The first of which is a pinocle tournament this Saturday April 29. Advance will be held the following Saturday May 6. Both affairs are being held at the V.F.W., Hall on Wolf rd., Mokena. A donation of $5 includes the whole family for both events.

Money raised during the campaign will be used to improve present fire fighting equipment and to make any additions that are necessary to keep Mokena in insurance class seven. The Illinois Inspection Bureau threatens to change Mokena rating to class 10 if certain bureau requirements are not met.

The Illinois Inspection Bureau is the fire underwriter's agency which sets insurance rates for the entire state. If the department fails to raise the amount needed, estimated at $6,000, and the Bureau designates Mokena as class 10, it will mean an insurance rate hike of about $15 for property owners, it was explained.

The Mokena fire department received no tax money, but is solely supported by donations. Its members are local men who receive no salary or compensation. Donations received are used entirely for equipment and supplies.

Postmaster Margaret O'Brien has indicated that the preliminaries to such a step have been completed. What is necessary now before the postoffice department will give home delivery is a proper numbering system. If the numbers were available now, the postmaster said, it probably would be another two or three months before the home delivery would become a fact.

The present numbers, it was pointed out, are a jumbled-up mess. Odd and even numbers appear on the same side of some streets. Not only would the proper numbers enable the postoffice to deliver mail but they would also make work easier for those delivering merchandise to homes in the village.

Dr. J.A. Romonas Opens Office At Mokena May 1

Dr. Julius A. Romonas, physician and surgeon, who has an office at Orland Park, is opening another office—in Mokena—on May 1.

The office will be at 103 Front st., adjoining the Mokena Pharmacy.

Dr. Romonas will keep office hours at Mokena, Monday and Thursday from 12 noon to 2 o'clock, and on Tuesday and Fridays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. He also will keep other hours by appointment. His telephone will be Mokena 5605.

From Central he went to Gallesburg (Illinois) Research hospital and was there for a year as staff physician in charge of internal medicine.

Dr. Romonas then came to Orland Park where he opened an office in June of last year. He is affiliated with Silver Cross hospital.

Dr. Romonas' wife, Ingrid, is also a native of Lithuania. They have a 4-year-old son, Dalia.

Dr. Romonas spent six months at the Munich Clinic as an intern and then came to the United States. He interned for a year at St. Bernard's hospital, Chicago, and then went to Rochester, N. WILLIAM H. EDWARDS is the new basketball and baseball coach at Lincoln-Way high school. He also will teach social science. Edwards comes here from Litchfield, Ill., where his basketball and baseball teams have had excellent records.

In the past five years his cage teams have won 90 games and lost 50. Victories have included two conference championships. In the 1960-61 season the Litchfield five's only losses were to Collinsville, state champions. In four years as baseball coach his teams have won 60 and lost 14 games and last year finished second in the state tournament. Mr. Edwards will succeed Joseph Kruzich, Sr., as basketball coach and Jonas Lashmet as baseball mentor. Kruzich resigned as basketball coach this spring after Lincoln-Way shared the conference title with Homewood-Flossmoor. He will now give full time to his teaching duties. Edwards will join the Lincoln-Way faculty in September.

SUFFERS DOG BITE
Four stitches were needed to close a laceration on the thigh of Edward Wheeler, 9, of 215 W. Illinois Highway, New Lenox, Thursday at Silver Cross hospital in Joliet. Edward, the son of George and Margaret Wheeler, was bitten by a dog. A report was made to the Will county sheriff's office.

Suspect Arson In Shop Fire

A fire, causing an estimated $30,000 in damage, destroyed a Frankfort landmark early Sunday morning.

The Fra-Mil Co., a cabinet shop, was demolished by a blaze of unknown origin. It is located at Elwood and Smith St.

The business was owned by John Mrozek of Oak Lawn and about three persons were employed there. The blaze was discovered at 6 a.m. and was brought under control by the Frankfort Volunteer Fire department by 7:30 a.m.

Frankfort Police Chief Francis Simon suspects arson. He said when firemen arrived, they tried the front door and found it unlocked. Mrozek said the door is also locked upon closing at night. Simon said there were other indications of prowlers in the building.

Missing were six portable grinding machines, four portable drills, and electric drill, a joiner, four portable hand sanders and other tools. The only machinery left in the structure were machines that are too large to move by hand. Mrozek said all of the equipment was new.

The front portion of the building was entirely demolished and the roof caved in on one side. Mrozek said it was partially covered by insurance. Ruined in the fire and water were a new shipment of sheets of plywood and wood paneling.

The structure was formerly occupied by Fre Klepper who operated a woodworking shop at one time.

Others in the picture, beginning at the left, are Dwight W. Egle, cashier, John Handorf, chairman of the board, Sheldon W. Hauck, executive vice president, Ernest O. Oram, Jr., a director and John N. Marx, architect. Two directors, Archie Corp and Frank Vranicar, were not present for the ceremony. Corp is second vice president, R. J. McLeary is assistant cashier.

Robert G. Regan Construction Co., Joliet, has been awarded the contract which calls for completion of the addition by Aug. 15, this year. The new addition will feature a new drive up window, walk-up window, six teller cage, vault and officers quarters. The present building will be given a new front. Defines Home Bureau Organization

(This is one of a series of three articles written to acquaint more women with Home Bureau.)

What is Home Bureau? It is an organization of women interested in the promotion of education for home and family life. It helps to make women more aware of their responsibilities as homemakers and citizens. Thru the Home Bureau program, women are helped to become more efficient and better informed homemakers. This in turn helps them to render greater service to their community and family. It is the only professional organization for homemakers in the world.

Homemakers have the right to be proud of their profession. Like any lawyer, doctor, nurse, teacher, or any other professional person they must have an organization that will continually give them more education.

The Illinois Home Bureau Federation is sufficiently known at state, national, and world levels to be asked to send representatives to conferences such as the United Nations and the White House Conference of Children and Youth. Here decisions are made that directly or indirectly affect all of our lives.

Next week: More about the Home Adviser, Executive Board, and the Extension Council.

Kindergarten Assn. To Hold Card Party May 20

MRS. EDWARD HOVI
Tel. Mokena 5740

The Kindergarten Association has set the date for their card party. It will be held in the school on May 20. The admission charge will be $1.00 per person.

The association has been promised classroom space at the school, until such time as it will be needed by the grammar school children. When this occurs, Edward Feeley has promised them the use of an unoccupied home to hold their kindergarten classes. In this way they are now assured a place to hold their classes all year.

During the now famous April snow storm of last week, many men, and women too, helped dig out Arbury Hills, and Edward Feeley developer used his equipment to clear Route 45. It was gratifying to see what could be accomplished when people work together.

A special mention is extended to Archie Estes of 19345 South Oak Street; John Hayden of 9436 West Pine Street; Hyman Kronick of 9437 West Pine St. and Marvin Rognlie of 9534 West Hickory Street for giving Arbury Hills one day mail service, when they got thru to Mokena and picked up and delivered all the local mail for the residents.

On Tuesday evening, April 18, a two man delegation from the Civic Association, distributed the maps of Arbury Hills to the Mokena and Frankfort Fire Departments.

At that time it was explained that, since Arbury Hills is in Frankfort fire prevention district, in case of fire or emergencies one should call the Frankfort fire department by dialing 8-2121. When calling the fire department give your address and town, because some street names occur in more than one town. If, in dialing the department, you should neglect to dial the prefix number eight, you will get Mokena.

The regular monthly meeting of the Civic Association will be held on May 2 at 8:00 P.M. at the school. There will be a guest speaker from Lincoln-

Way high school, and a discussion on the By-Laws with voting on amendments, if time permits, and an explanation of fire department matters.

The Association wrote a letter to J. P. Tuthill, District Engineer of the State Highway Department, concerning the traffic hazard caused by Arbury Hills residents turning in to the entrance at 193rd Street and Route 45 and requested that a traffic investigation of this problem be made, and a report be submitted to the association.

On April 14 a reply was received by the association from D. S. Magowan, District Engineer. He stated that a plan was made to make a thorough study of the situation, to include speed surveys and a traffic count thru the intersection in and out of Arbury Hills. Driver behavior will also be observed to see if existing traffic signs are being observed.

After the completion of this study, the necessary action will be taken in so far as is possible.

The school board of Summit Hill District 161 will meet on Friday, April 28 at the school.

April 21 marked the date of the latest of the monthly dances being held at the school for the sixth, seventh and eighth grade students. The dances are open to the student of Summit Hill District 161 and their guests only. These dances are being supervised by the school's principal, Charles Ellis with the assistance, whenever possible, of the parents. It is thru his concern and interest in the youngsters that these well conducted dances are taking place.

The meeting of the Baby-Sitters Cooperative of Arbury Hills was held on April 19. Two new members were welcomed into the group, now making a total membership of twenty-one.

The secretary for the next month is Mrs. Robert Burdett of 9442 Aest Hickory Street, her telephone number is Mokena 5797. Anyone interested in becoming a member, or any present member desiring a baby-sitter, should contact Mrs. Robert Burdett. The next meeting date was set as May 17 at the home of Mrs. Jack Cook of 9424 West Pine Street.

The next meeting of the Bingo Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Farnham at 9514 West Rosewood Lane.

Anyone with good ideas or who is willing to work, please volunteer for the June all-family picnic. The committee consists of: Sam La Rocca Mokena 5743, chairman; Marvin Rognlie Mokena 5596; William Watkins Mokena 5380; Clarence Lauffer Kellogg 2-2388; and Fred Hentsch Kellogg 2-2589.

The picnic will be for all students of Summit Hill District 161 and their parents. Much help will be needed by the committee to make this picnic a success.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson of 9451 West Elm Avenue attended the dinner-dance given by George's company at the Palos Country Club last Saturday evening.

Remedies Ballot Error, Board Appoints Jensen

Harlow Jensen was appointed to the New Lenox school board when the board convened to re-organize and elect new officers.

Jensen's name was inadvertently omitted from the ballot in the school board election. It was not noted until the election day was almost over. School Superintendent John Oster sought legal aid from the legal department, of the state department of public instruction. This department stipulated that Jensen who was an incumbent could be appointed by the board to fill the vacancy. He was not opposed in the election.

Evans Drott was re-elected president as were Howard Handorf, vice president, and J. Earl Robinson, secretary.

Jack Talmage who resides in New Lenox was hired by the board to teach a sixth grade class next year. Talmage, a graduate of Cornell college, is presently with Beling Engineering firm.

The board took under advisement the employment of teachers for the coming year. This will cut down on the size of the class and make it possible to accept pupils outside of the district on a tuition basis. They would pay the per capita fee, which is approximately $150. The board desires to see if enough persons would be interested in this arrangement to make it worthwhile. A limit in the size of the class would be set at about 20 children. This past year Mrs. Geneva Oster was employed as a full time kindergarten teacher with Mrs. Helen Gulliksen serving on a part time basis.

Oster and Drott will meet with a committee from the volunteer firemen of New Lenox to talk about the attendance of a uniformed firemen at various occasions and games at the schools.

The board asked Oster to place an order for portable scaffolding to be used in Oakview school. Oster was also authorized to get bids on the landscaping of Oakview's front campus and bids for putting in a drain tile to take water off of the playground area.

Other than routine business, a large portion of the meeting was devoted to explaining the new accounting system to be employed in the schools in Illinois in the coming year.

Peotone Sophs Plan Bonfire Bop; Dance

The Sophomore class of Peotone high school announces a "Bonfire Bop" and street dance will be held Saturday evening, April 29.

Refreshments for the "Bonfire Bop", which will be held from 7:00 to 7:45 p.m., will be available at a nominal fee. Street dancing will follow from 8:00 to 11:30 p.m. There will be an admission fee of 25¢. In case of inclement weather the event will be cancelled.

1000 Persons Attend 4-H Fun Festival

Over one thousand persons went to Lincoln Way high school for Will County's 4-H Share-the-Fun Festival Tuesday evening, April 18. Forty-six different acts were presented by members of local 4-H clubs.

Winners of the county's event will now go to the State Fair and enter the state's 4-H Share-the-Fun. Selected as Will County's master of ceremonies representative was Miss Beverly Riegel of Peotone. Beverly is a member of the Peotone Cleverettes and has been in club work eleven years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Riegel.

Her alternate is Miss Linda Lewis, also of Peotone. Linda is a member in the Peotone Pep Pushers and Cleverettes 4-H clubs. She has been in club work six years. Linda's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lewis.

The top act honors went to a combination act presented by members of two 4-H clubs. The two clubs taking part were the Wesley 4-H Hustlers and Wilmington Little Women. A vocal act by three members of Plainfield Stitch N' Stir was chosen as first alternate. Selected as second alternate was Kay Bare, a Wilmington Little Women 4-H member.

Judges for the county's festival were Mrs. Mary Greenman, New Lenox; Mrs. Grace Wegner, Kendall County Home Adviser; and Miss Judy Hage, Director, Tri-Cities Dairy Council. Mrs. Greenman is an active member of a Joliet drama group. Miss Hage was a top 4-H'er in Kendall County.

Clubs receiving blue ribbons for their acts were Wesley Busy Bees, Wheatland Wonder Workers, Green Garden Snip N' Snack, Manhattan Chat N' Chit, Monee Merry Maids and Busy Hour. Other blue ribbon winning clubs' acts were Lincoln Lassies, New Lenox Bronco Busters, Jackson Champions, and Peotone Cleverettes.

Bill Rab, Town Hall Blue Winners, received a blue ribbon as master of ceremonies. All other clubs taking part received participation ribbons.

State Has Record Budget

The budget submitted to the legislature last week calls for appropriations in excess of $3-billion. This is a record for Illinois and if this be fame we would gladly forego it.

How to raise the money to meet such a figure is indeed a problem. Gov. Kerner has recommended an increase in the state sales tax and a broadening of its base; an increase in the corporate franchise tax and a broadening of its base; a tax of one cent on each cigar sold; an increase in the cigarette tax of a penny a pack, or from three to four cents and a tax on hotel and motel room rentals at the rate of five per cent on the gross receipts.

Such suggestion may enable us to raise the money necessary to meet the terms of the proposed budget but what of future budgets?

A look at the federal budget situation shows that appropriations have a tendency to grow, that big budgets beget bigger budgets.

That Gov. Kerner has larger budgets in mind is inferred from the fact that he is in favor of amendment to the constitution which would rewrite the revenue article and give the legislature a free hand in writing tax laws.

With pressure groups being what they are we shudder to think what could happen if the legislature is given a blank check. We do not wish to imply that the legislators are any greater spenders than any other officials. It is true that appropriations have to be made by the legislature but that doesn't mean that the legislators think them up.

As a matter of act there are many legislators who fight against proposals to spend public money to benefit a few at the expense of the many but there are times when the pressure becomes too great.

Individuals, organizations, groups with pet causes, cities, towns, counties and other taxing bodies appear to be always in need of money and turn to the state or federal government when their own means become inadequate.

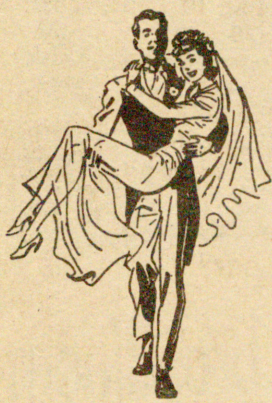

The legislature has some excuse now in rejecting many requests -- it can point out that funds are lacking. A "No Money" answer is about the only "No" answer most of the tax mendicants can understand. But if the time should come that the Illinois general assembly is given power to levy taxes in any manner it can dream up then you can expect four and five billion dollar budgets.

Several years ago the Chicago City administration came up with an idea of imposing an income or salary tax on those persons who held jobs in Chicago but made their homes outside the city. There wasn't anyway of getting such a measure enacted then but if the constitution is amended the way the governor and Mayor Daley are urging, so the legislature has a free hand in imposing new taxes one could expect Daley to call his legislators together like a stenographers' pool and say:

"Now, gentlemen, take a law!"
Of course, before such a change in the constitution could be possible it must be approved by the voters. We think the voters would be averse to any change that would give the legislature such a blank check. At least we hope so.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Another link with a past era was broken in the past fortnight when death took Marian Jordan.

When the news of her passing appeared on Page One in the dailies across the country readers were shocked. Death is no stranger to Page One but in the metropolitan papers it seldom appears there except in whole-sale lots or as a result of violence.

For an individual dying of natural causes to make Page One in the big cities he or she must be a celebrity, a noted philanthropist or a household word or institution.

Marion Jordan was not only an institution but as Molly of Fibber McGee and Molly, she was an epoch in radio.

So when news of her death appeared recently it was read by millions who were genuinely sorry, because they looked on the First Lady of Wistful Vista not only as someone they knew but as a friend.

The younger fry that have been more or less raised on television look on radio as a means to hear records, weather and news reports. Not to have known radio in its heyday is to have missed a great deal of pleasure.

As far as your correspondent is concerned the dramas, the comedies served one on radio were better than we get on television. Just as the movies give wider scope to some plays than the stage or radio performed as compared to TV.

TV is like the stage--one is limited as to what one sees and characters portrayed may appear so different from the way one imagined them.

In radio plays one could set the stage in his mind's eye and picture the characters to his own fancy. Thus, they became quite real.

Certainly the people of Wistful Vista became quite real. Every Tuesday night millions of us went to the McGee home at Wistful Vista for a visit with the people there...McGee with his big mouth and his big idea...his honor, the mayor, Doc Gamble...Wallace Wimple, who never quite succeeded in getting away from his "big old battle ax" of a wife...Cliff Arquette now famous in his role of Charley Weaver but famed then as the Old Timer who sometimes stopped Fibber with.... "that ain't the way I heard it Johnny, the way I heard it one feller says t'-other feller, SAY-Y-Y, he says....." and there was the famous closet so filled with goods and chattels hoarded by Fibber that when someone forgot and opened it the stuff cascaded to the floor with wonderful sound effects.... the opening of the closet door was always preceded with a warning shriek of anguish by Molly, always a split second too late to avoid catastrophe.... this bit was always appreciated by the listeners because most of us have a junk hideaway someplace and a Fibber McGee closet still means a cluttered up receptacle in our language.... Molly was easy going and never nagged.... her "tain't funny, McGee," was usually enough to curb the exuberances of her spouse... she also was another voice, Teeny, the little girl next door whose opening lines, "Hi Mister..." was usually followed by a series of questions that had McGee on the ropes...

Three different twilight meetings for vegetable growers in south Cook county will be held during the months of May, June and July. The exact dates have not been cleared with the people expected to participate, so will not be announced right now. At each meeting we hope to have specialists in disease, insect and weed control, and someone qualified in the field of general vegetable production. We do not plan to have a formal program. The specialists will be available to answer questions posed by vegetable growers.

READ LUKE 2:41-47
After three days they found Jesus in the temple, sitting in the midst of doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. (Luke 2:46.)
One snowy day I was busy skimming through some books in a store. An old woman came in. She spoke to me, and I looked up and answered her greeting.
She began to relate her life story. She said she was 79 years old and lived by herself in an apartment. She went on to tell that her only child was now a practicing lawyer and that she had two grandchildren. After five minutes of talking, she said, "Thank you for listening."
As I thought about the parting words, I decided that listening is both an art and a ministry. It has value not only to the listener, but also to the one who talks and shares. As a boy, Jesus asked questions and listened to the doctors in the temple in Jerusalem. By His example we are encouraged and challenged to develop the art. We are called upon to cultivate and use the ministry of listening -- with interest and concern.
PRAYER: We thank Thee, Lord, for giving us all kinds of opportunities for Christian service, the ministry of listening being one of them. Incline us to listen with patience and love, and grant us sensitive hearts that will bear and share. In the Master's name, Amen.

The Upper Room

READ LUKE 2:41-47
After three days they found Jesus in the temple, sitting in the midst of doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions. (Luke 2:46.)
One snowy day I was busy skimming through some books in a store. An old woman came in. She spoke to me, and I looked up and answered her greeting.
She began to relate her life story. She said she was 79 years old and lived by herself in an apartment. She went on to tell that her only child was now a practicing lawyer and that she had two grandchildren. After five minutes of talking, she said, "Thank you for listening."
As I thought about the parting words, I decided that listening is both an art and a ministry. It has value not only to the listener, but also to the one who talks and shares. As a boy, Jesus asked questions and listened to the doctors in the temple in Jerusalem. By His example we are encouraged and challenged to develop the art. We are called upon to cultivate and use the ministry of listening -- with interest and concern.
PRAYER: We thank Thee, Lord, for giving us all kinds of opportunities for Christian service, the ministry of listening being one of them. Incline us to listen with patience and love, and grant us sensitive hearts that will bear and share. In the Master's name, Amen.

Letters To The Editor

A VOTE FOR WOMEN

Editor:
Dear Sir:

A salute to a courageous young woman, a pioneer of sorts, who ran for a village office in Mokena.

Quite a few years back I heard of another young woman who had the audacity to run for the school board.

Perhaps in another 50 years or so another brave woman not yet born may fare forth to try her luck on a ballot in Mokena. She might get on the school board, she might get on the village board, she might even be mayor. Heavenly Daze! What am I saying?

Women of Mokena, first we should conquer Outer Space. (Signed) Ever an Optimist

IS GRATEFUL

Editor:
Dear Sir:

On Sunday, April 16, my wife and family were returning from Morris, Ill. to Chicago Hgts. We were stranded about 3 miles east of New Lenox on Rte. 30. We returned to New Lenox at about 9 p.m. where other motorists were being sheltered at the Fire Station. A gentleman from your town, seeing we had 6 children took us into his home without hesitating. We spent the night there and were treated very kindly. This gentleman's name is Mr. L. Braun. Both Mr. & Mrs. Braun worked far into the night helping other people like ourselves. I would like to thank them and the New Lenox Fire Department for the help and kindness they gave us.

I remain sincerely
Kenneth Carpenter

ECHOES OF ELECTION

Editor:
Dear Sir:

Our Mokena village election has given us much to ponder. No criminals were running for office but from the flying rumors one might have thought so. I've known all those on the ballot were respectable citizens. Each has his own imperfections, even as you and I. Certainly we have the right to judge candidates on issues. We also choose them for qualities of intelligence, judgement, morality, according to our best knowledge of them.

We have no right to measure candidates by the rumors that circulate from irresponsible sources. Some of these rumors are childish, some laughable, others evil and vicious. This type of politics degrades our community in the eyes of neighboring towns and our perimeter neighbors.

In our home we were faced with painful decisions between candidates of competence and ability. The choices were difficult.

Only one situation is embarrassing and disturbing and that is the office of police magistrate. This is in no sense a personal matter but one of principle and propriety. A Community cannot treat lightly the problems of law enforcement without suffering for it, suffering in loss of respect from its neighbors, and loss of pride in their village by its own citizens.

Perhaps we can only learn by trial and error as a neighboring town apparently has. (Signed) Unhappy Citizen

FOR FAIR PLAY

Dear Sir:

As a resident of Mokena for sixteen years, I have been shocked and hurt by scurrilous rumors circulated during both our school board and municipal elections. When the rumors are traced, the response is always, "THEY SAID" or "THEY told me this and I thought it was true." No one ever admits being the source of these rumors but always blames them on the vague "THEY". This present municipal election has been no exception!

To all of these so-called Christians in our community who have participated in spreading these false rumors, may I quote two prayers from Dr. Peter Marshall, one-time chaplain of the United States Senate:

"Our Father in heaven, who dost know every secret of our hearts--all that we fear, all that we hope, and all of which we are ashamed -- in this moment of confusion, as each man looks into his own heart and mind, have mercy upon us all, and make us clean inside, that in all we do today we may behave with true courtesy and honor. Let us be kind in our criticism of others, and slow to judge, knowing that we ourselves must one day be judged."

"Our Father, we are beginning to understand at last that the things that are wrong with our world are the sum total of all the things that are wrong with us as individuals. We have found out that we cannot do wrong and feel right. Make us bold enough to confront the face of evil and of wrong, even when it bears our own image. We are too Christian really to enjoy sinning and too fond of sinning really to enjoy Christianity. Most of us know perfectly well what we ought to do; our trouble is that we do not want to do it. Thy help is our only hope. Make us want to do what is right, and give us the ability to do it."

In conclusion, I pray that in future elections in our community, we all work for and vote for the men or women best qualified for the job and not vote against a person because dirty, false rumors are being circulated about that person.

Sincerely,
JANE H. BILLS

Business & Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The stock market has had a price reaction during the past week or so and many leading analysts believe it to be at least partially brought about by profit taking on profits accruing since about October.

The Standard & Poor Index of 500 stocks, shows a price rise of 27 per cent since the low point in October. It is just over the required six months to bring such profits under capital-gains income tax levy. It is not surprising that there has been a market reaction thru profit taking.

The usual pattern of the recent past, has been for a substantial decline in total day's trading volume, when market prices declined. This, of course indicated little selling pressure. In the past several trading sessions, this pattern has not been followed. The volume was fairly heavy on a declining market. Some analysts used this fact as confirmation of their belief that there was considerable capital-gains selling. The idea is expressed that the demand for stocks exceeds supply. This statement would, naturally, be intended to apply to well known situations.

The current increases of small, but steady nature in a number of basic industries such as steel, have been predicted for some time.

Altho still recommending close inventory controls, the National Association of Purchasing Agents survey states a majority of its members report increases in production and orders for March. This is the first month since March to show an increase.

Defense contracts are being placed at a faster rate and will be noted in total new orders in this quarter. The impetus for greater spending may be given a push by reaction to the well publicized reports of Russia's space success sending a man into space and his return. It would seem that this event was well timed for this period of military difficulties in Laos and situation in Cuba.

It is reported that our government is in process of analyzing the space event as to its effect and means whereby we can checkmate any advantages gained. This is another example of the fact that our defense budget is dependent on what Moscow does rather than what Washington budget makers desire.

Analysts now point out the fact that, as a nation, we do not react in a nervous manner with such international shocks. A few years ago such events had rather a heavy impact on securities markets -- on a temporary basis.

The drug industry is being threatened by stern controls by new laws and regulation thru legislation now proposed by Senator Kefauver. He is to propose that drug manufacturers cross license their patents and also that added police powers be given the Food & Drug Administration. It is even proposed that close controls be had as to promotional and advertising expenses of the manufacturers.

As of this time, commentators are not stressing these proposed controls on drug manufacturers. It may well be, there is a belief that any final laws will not be as stern with these manufacturers and that application of such regulatory changes, will take considerable time to work out after becoming law.

Report On Follow-Up Study Of 1960 Class At Sandburg

by SUPT. W. O. FISHER
Carl Sandburg high school under the direction of its administration and guidance department, has recently undertaken a follow-up study of the Class of 1960.

The major premise underlying this study is that a good educational institution recognizes the importance of follow-up studies relative to the work done by high school graduates during their college years.

From these studies a pattern of responses should emerge that will be of assistance in determining areas that need strengthening, as well as areas that may be eliminated.

The inquiries were in two parts: (a) was the particular student pleased with his choice of college? (b) campus interviews

To the question, "Was the student satisfied with his choice of institution of higher learning?" Of the 77 students attending colleges, 72 students indicated they were pleased with their choice; three students were not; two were undecided. Of the 117 students interviewed of the Sandburg Class of 1960, the breakdown is as follows:

Attending colleges	77
Working	27
Special training schools	8
Armed Services	4
Unemployed	1

The campus interviews brought some interesting responses. To the questions, "Do you feel that Carl Sandburg high school is doing a poor job in any area of its program? If yes, write briefly explaining your feelings and offering suggestions as to how improvement could be made."

"Considering the courses I took during my four years I found they were all well planned and conducted in a manner that was easy to understand and learn except I feel the students should be put more on their own -- feeling more independent," wrote one student.

"I feel that in some way I could have developed more of an intellectual curiosity. I feel that the students should be required to do more work and get it in at the required time on their own."

"I think that there should be allowed at least one day a week after school that teachers could meet with the students and go over assignments that were not understood. Also the library should be open at night not only to students but also to the alumni and parents."

(Note: This suggestion is in force at Sandburg presently. All teachers in the various departments are available after school hours for instruction and conferences.)

One student feels that, "more emphasis should be put on English composition." Another student remarks that "more emphasis should be put on the emotional, spiritual and philosophical aspects of history."

Several students paid tribute to Sandburg's teaching staff, "Good, sincere, well-trained teachers . . . I was fortunate to have such teachers."

Several students were concerned about the teaching of grammar . . . "more emphasis on this area." One student expressed a consensus of opinion . . . "We need more grammar, more composition."

A few felt that a goodly number of college students throughout the country fail because of a deficiency in basic grammar. There was a suggestion that the counseling services could be expanded, although almost to a man students agreed that they had benefitted tremendously from the Sandburg counseling department.

Some interesting responses were made to the question, "What specific services were provided for the student at Carl Sandburg that was of value and help to you?"

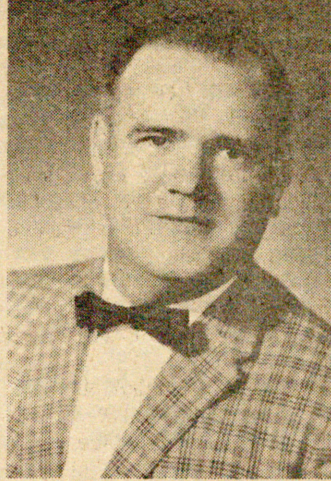

There was the student who felt, "The extra time teachers are able to spend with us, and the understanding of a counselor and guidance director, is of inestimable value."

"Good guidance program, wide variety of subjects, and a goodly number of excellent teachers."

"The specialized advanced classes proved valuable." One student felt that the general business program offered great help to him.

"I found the speech and music contest good from increasing competition, which is necessary in school."

Some students had found that their teachers were always ready to be of help in counseling. Others saw much value in a reading comprehension course. The science seminar attracted yet another large group who found this beneficial in college science. And over all, it seems that the Sandburg counseling department proved most efficient in helping the students over the hurdles of the college requirement questions.

Considerable approval was extended to the accelerated English courses. Students working toward a degree in home economics felt that the Sandburg background . . . "proved of great value in pursuing my course in home economics."

The question, "Do you believe the curriculum at Carl Sandburg is adequate in meeting college needs?" brought interesting replies. Some cried for more social science, others felt that the whole curriculum was excellent, "with a wide range of subjects."

Then there was the student who desired much more in the area of formal grammar and composition! Considering the times we are living in, some urged a more substantial language course . . . add Russian to your curriculum! If not Russian as a required subject, one said, give us an opportunity to have it as an elective.

Where one found Latin of little use, another found it most helpful.

There were requests for a political science course! However, he would settle for an additional course in Government.

One student, who evidently did not get around very much--asked for a machine shop! Note: Sandburg has one!

On the whole the responses in this division of inquiries could be summed up in one student's remark, "I believe Carl Sandburg provided a more than adequate number of subjects, thus providing a good background for the students."

At the conclusion of the questionnaire the student was asked, "To feel free to write any additional comments or constructive criticism, regarding the high school program."

Here we find a student who felt, ". . . students should be given less busy work and more actual studying assignments in the last two years." A sound suggestion.

Then comes the hard worker with the thought, "The greatest criticism I have to offer is that high school was too easy! He goes on to stress more homework, stricter grading. He found that in college there is no one to prod you, beg or threaten you. You are on your own. He concludes, "Students will cry, parents will plead, but make high school harder!"

At last we find a number of the old grads who feel, "I have been very proud of Sandburg in comparison with high schools all over the country. I am always proud to say I attended high school there."

Out of these studies, properly correlated, a pattern should evolve, giving us a better understanding of the needs of our high school graduates. In this way, many of our high schools should be able to render greater service to the future leaders of our country.

Ulysses Grant's second inauguration topped all others in misery. Zero weather. Guests at the Inaugural Ball danced in heavy coats to keep from freezing. (The champagne did).

Dog Licenses Are Now Due At Mokena

As of the first of April licenses for dogs within the village limits of Mokena are being purchased by their owners at the office of the village clerk, Alvin Sorensen.

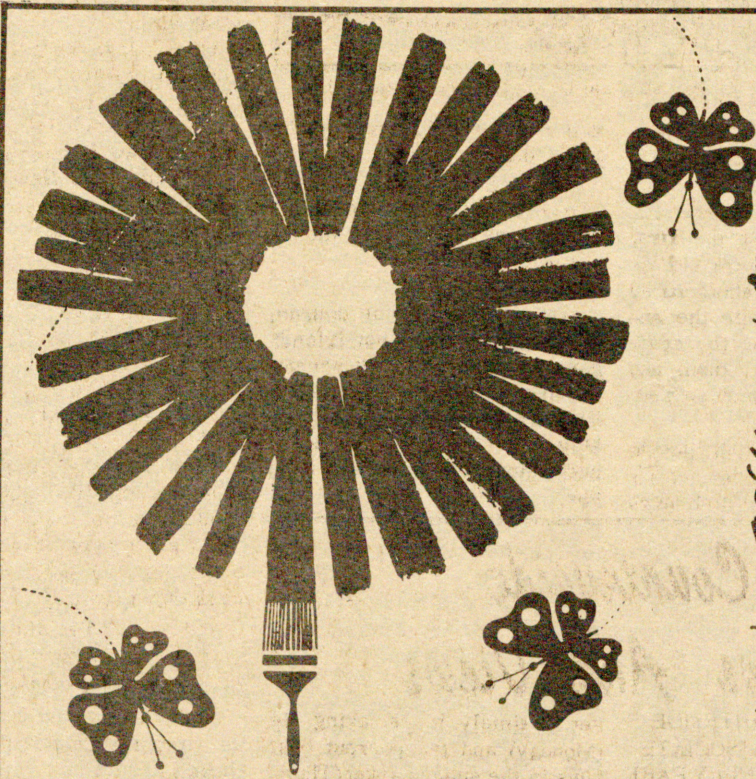

Last year, Dr. Thomas Gunhouse, Frankfort veterinarian accommodated the village and dog owners by giving mass inoculations at the village hall, at which time licenses could also be obtained. The fee charge is $3 for the inoculation and $2 for the license.

Over 90 dogs received inoculations last year but the village was put to the expense of hiring local police to make a house to house call on over half of the owners to collect the license fee.

The village clerk states that an inoculation is good for a year and the owner of any dog that received a shot last May may purchase a license now and wait until next month to obtain the shot. It is the plan of the village to hold another mass inoculation sometime next month.

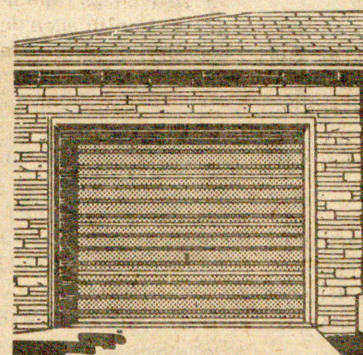

It is the responsibility of every dog owner to keep his pet under control at all times, village authorities pointed out. The village is enforcing an ordinance that all dogs must be tied or on a leash and not let to run at large.

Future Teachers At L-W Start Tutoring Service

A student tutoring service has been started at Lincoln-Way High School under the supervision of the Future Teachers of American organization of Lincoln-Way.

Faculty sponsors of the Lincoln-Way F.T.A., Mrs. Della Hussey and Arthur Mackay are expecting a productive activity thru student tutoring.

Certain rooms will be set aside for tutoring during the entire school day. The list of rooms and what subjects will be discussed in said room will be listed on the main bulletin board and a copy will be given to each faculty member.

Students having difficulty with a subject, and desiring help, would get permission from his teaching of that subject and then report to the tutoring room for some help.

The tutors have come from the Lincoln-Way student body. The requirements are rather exacting. The prospective tutor must have a desire to help others and at least a "B" average in the subject matter. Faculty permission for the subject he would tutor and a recent contact with the subject.

This entire project will take place during the free periods that students may have during the regular school day.

Hopes are high that it will be a real asset to the Lincoln-Way program of education.

Safety Council Urges Caution On Streets

Chester Kupiec, 15054 Huntington court, member of the Orland Park Hills safety council stresses that parents should bear in mind with spring and summer approaching children will be playing more out-of-doors.

Streets are becoming more traveled each day and in some cases it is almost impossible for an on-coming vehicle to see youngsters darting into the street he pointed out. Last year, he stated, several serious, if not fatal accidents occurred.

Mr. Kupiec states if every parent keep "safe play" in mind for their children in the coming months ahead incidents of the past could be avoided.

Kids At Work! Take Families Off Relief

(CNS) How 1,142 children, 14 years of age, and over, made 92 families independent of public aid by working during their 1960 vacation time was reported last week by Peter W. Cahill, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission.

The report shows that thru the combined efforts of county departments of public aid, members of the county welfare services committees and the youngsters themselves, $102,531 was earned.

The employment plan for juniors, started in 1952, has succeeded in placing 10,748 children during this nine year period. In some cases these summer jobs led to employment upon the child's graduation from high school.

Earnings during this period totaled $982,714 and accounted for the removal of 1,408 cases from the assistance rolls, Cahill said.

Marley Missionary Group Hears Talk On Conserving Soil

BY VIRGINIA SASS
HU 5-3133
The Marley Missionary Society met at the Marley church on Wednesday April 19 for their regular monthly meeting. Tom Morgan, will county conservationist, talked to the group of his work in the county and of how the Will county Soil Conservation district was organized. He showed two films, "The Earth Is The Lord's" and "Bread From Stone".

The devotions "Fruit Bearing" were presented by Mrs. Royal Corp. Refreshments were served in the dining room by the hostesses, Mrs. Robert Sproat, Mrs. Durward Killinger, Mrs. Jack Jordan and Mrs. Adella Sproat.

Clayton Cleveland is a medical patient in the Silver Cross hospital.

Mrs. Daniel Sass and Frank Liszt Sr. spent Thursday and Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Vogt at Allegan, Mich.

The Marley church was a haven for victims of the severe, storm which struck here Sunday April 16. Over 50 cars were stalled on the Marley curve, Rte. 6, beginning around 6 p.m. Some sixty people were cared for in the church, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sproat, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lambert, Mrs. Erv Loucks, Mrs. Irene Dean and Francis Nelson worked all night trying to make the people comfortable, drying their clothes and providing food and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knieriem and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Lauffer were each hosts to over thirty people in their homes. Mr. Knieriem and Mr. Lauffer worked until 2:30 a.m., bringing in people off of Rt. 6. They pulled the cars off the highway with tractors, therefore making an easier job for the highway plows to clear the road the next morning.

L-W Splits Conference Ball Games

Homewood-Flossmoor Club Defeats Lincoln-Way, 3 To 2

BY BILL SLUIS
A seventh inning comeback by the Lincoln-Way Knights was thwarted Friday afternoon, and the Homewood-Flossmoor Vikings beat them 3-2 in a game played at Flossmoor. A two-run third inning, paced by Jim Edler's double, provided the coup de grace.

H-F's Steve Smoot fired no-hit ball through the first four innings, but was rocked off the mound by a one-run Knight explosion in the fifth. Walt Schiehl relieved and preserved the victory, which hoisted the Vikings to top notch in the SWS race. Skip Kruzich started and got the loss. He was relieved by Ron Yunker in the last two frames, who three hitless ball.

Homewood tied off on Kruzich in the bottom of the first, scoring one run on three hits. With one dead George Fischer smacked a two-bagger to right center. He scored from second on Fred McMorris' single. Jim Edler added a base hit, but the Vikings failed to jostle the plate a second time.

Two more tallies crossed home in the third sector, raising Flossmoor's lead to 3-0. After George Stine had grounded out short-to-first, Kruzich gave up passes to George Fischer and John Sullivan. When Fischer attempted to pilfer third base, Dan Bean threw the ball into left field, and Fischer scored. Sullivan also scored when Jim Edler bopped a double. Terry Reim strangled the fally with a groundball.

The Knights knocked out Smoot in the top of the fifth with a one-run rally. With one out, Steve gave up a single to Bob Lichtenwalter, a walk to Ray Turney, a hit to Wayne Lauffer, and another walk to pinch hitter Gene Carlos, forcing in the first run. Smoot was sent to the showers, and fireman Walt Schiehl came on to quickly douse the hapless Knights.

When the Knights came to bat in the top of the seventh, the score was still 3-1. Ray Turney squirmed to first on Fred McMorris' error. Wayne Lauffer erased Turney on a fielders choice, then proceeded to purloin second and third bases. Jerry Sayers' base clout sent Wayne scooting home to bring the Knights within one, after Dean Yarbrough had fanned. Dan Bean drew a free transfer, putting men on first and second. Skip Kruzich, with a 3-0 count, missed three straight pitches to end the game.

Sues Bar Owners

A $15,000 dram shop suit has been filed in the Will County circuit court against the owners and operators of a Mokena tavern by the widow of an auto crash victim.

The plaintiff, Mrs. Ethel Byrne, 1414 Barry ave., Joliet, alleges that her husband, Christy J., suffered fatal injuries on April 12 of last year when the car in which he was a passenger was struck by another vehicle on U. S. 6 near 168th street, Orland township.

The car in which Byrne was riding was driven by Paul Grunitz, Lockport rd. It was struck, according to the suit, by a car driven by Theodore Slettebo, of Mokena.

Slettebo, the action charges, had been drinking in the tavern said to be owned and operated by James and Angelina Surovick, on Front st., Mokena, and as a result was unable to handle his car properly.

Byrne was taken to Silver Cross hospital where he died a few hours later. According to the suit Byrne earned some $6,000 a year and besides his wife had two sons who are described as dependents.

Gas Dealers Give Aid To Snow Victims

Two ex-marines and a third man, partners in the Standard station at Route 45 and 143rd Street in Orland Park had a busy time as a result of the near blizzard April 16.

That was when a record-breaking spring snow storm hit the Chicago suburban area. As the snow piled up in huge drifts, many motorists were trapped and in need of help. To the rescue came Dick Stengl, Van and David Enblom. The went to dig out cars and later sent home for a large supply of coffee cake, cookies and hot coffee, which was served to the stranded motorists. When the storm worsened, they made arrangements for twenty-three people to stay over night at their station. Two families stayed in their cars in the station, while others were sheltered in their cars on the driveway.

This information might never have been known if it were not for a customer, who had been helped, calling the company's regional office to relate the fine service she had received.

Van and David Enblom served in the United States Marines until 1959, and their partner Dick Stengl attended Northland

Knights Blank Reavis, 3-2, Yunker Pitches 3-Hitter

BY BILL SLUIS
In a baseball game played last Thursday at New Lenox, the Knights of Lincoln-Way whipped the Reavis Rams 3-0, as Ron Yunker hurled a 3-hitter. The victory left the Knights with a 2-1 South-West Suburban Conference record, and knocked the heretofore unbeaten Rams out of first place.

Yunker fanned 10 and passed one in achieving his second win in three games. John Janssen took the loss for Reavis.

The Knights broke the ice with a two-run second inning.

Ron Yunker led off with a single and moved to third when Reavis pitcher John Janssen erred on Jim Beam's groundball. Beam moved to second and Yunker held third as Lichtenwalter rolled out. After Ray Turney had popped up, Jerry Sayer rapped a single, scoring two runs for the red and black. John Kropp choked the rally by bouncing out to the pitcher.

An insurance run was added in the third. With one out Dan Bean rapped a single. He took second on Skip Kruzich's grounder to Don Graf, and scored moments later when Ron Yunker smashed a single.

ed moments later when Ron Yunker smashed a single. Yunker went on to have a three-for-three day at the plate, raising his batting average to .500.

Reavis staged a rally in the top of the fourth, loading the sacks on a walk, a hit, and an error, but Yunker smoked a third strike past shortstop Jerry Savelle to quench the Reavis threat. The Knights were never headed, and took a 3-0 win. It was the first shutout Yunker has hurled this season.
